These classes deal with common technical problems in a group setting. You may observe without participating in actual vocalization if you wish, we try to be sensitive to those who are not experienced in this particular venue and work them in slowly. These classes are wonderful from the simple standpoint that we all must deal with the same issues regarding singing no matter how “green” or advanced we are. Frequently, realizations about one’s own technique occur at these forums that we would be hard-pressed to recreate in a private lesson. Sometimes we have singers sing a part of a piece in these sessions but primarily they are “discovery through vocalization”.

When: Check your quarterly voice events calendars

Where: All CMA Voice Technique Classes will be held in Room 107 at 7420 Montgomery Rd. Parents may choose to observe classes (if there is room) or use one of the other waiting areas at CMA

Administrated by: Paul McCready, David Urbon, Amanda Bower, and Margaret Breidenbaugh.

Bring: note taking devices and/or portable recording device

We can accommodate 9 students per technique class, after 9 have signed up we will suggest that you attend one of the many other technique classes offered.
