Amy
Immerman

As a member of the Royal Conservatory College of Examiners 2004-2012, Amy has given hundreds of music exams, and attended annual workshops on how to critique students in a positive way.

This book was put together first for herself. Having coined phrases can be very helpful when one is racing with the clock to keep evaluation events running on time.

"Thanks SOOO much! This is a much more comprehensive and detailed compilation of comments than I've seen anywhere else. I really appreciate your having taken the time to put all this together." Deborah in Dayton, OH
